This situation boils my piss, if any collective group of people know what it's like to be decimated it's the Jewish people, yet the act no better than history treated them. It's called the OCCUPIED West Bank for a reason. So many lives needlessly lost once again because of religion. Do people not learn from history. The world should hold Isreal account for the theft of land and force both sides to agree to live in peace.

Nope. Decolonisation means decolonisation. Palestinians get their land back and get to choose how to govern it. The world shouldn't be forcing them to live with their former colonisers.

They act like just because Nazi Germany and the Holocaust happened, their atrocities in Palestine are justified. Just because you survived fascism and authoritarianism, doesn't mean you can't be fascist yourselves.

Take a look at what happened in Indonesia, my home country, after Soekarno passed the torch to Soeharto.

SUBREDDIT RULES

You are not entitled to post or comment on this subreddit. Please read the rules carefully and follow them.

1. No Tory or reactionary sentiments

Posting racism, classism, misogyny, homophobia, transphobia, anti-semitism, anti-Romani sentiment, harassment, violence or religious intolerance will earn an immediate and permanent ban, as will any support for figures who promote these ideologies. This rule includes minimising or excusing hate speech/violence towards marginalised groups. References to hate speech should be pre-faced with a content warning and be censored with *'s.

2. Right wing hate-rags

Links to right-wing hate rags and news sites such as The Daily Mail, Telegraph, Daily Express, The Times, the Sun, BBC and Jewish Chronicle are subject to immediate removal. If you want to discuss a story from one, please either do so with a screenshot, copy and paste the article into a text post or use <https://archive.org/>, <https://archive.ph/> or a similar site.

3. Left Unity

Left unity is enforced here. This subreddit's goal is to unite the British left. Good faith discussion/disagreement over theory and its implementation is fine. Attack the argument, not the tendency. 'Leftist' includes anarcho-communists, mutualists, Marxists, Leninists, Maoists and democratic socialists. People who are pro-capitalist such as social democrats, liberals, Blairites, Starmerites etc. do not count as left and are not protected by this rule.

4. Good faith engagement

Engage with your fellow users in good faith during any and all discussions on the subreddit. Concern trolling, sea-lioning and other behaviours of this type constitute bad faith engagement. This is what wreckers do, wreckers get banned. Don't be a wrecker.

5. No Tory concern trolling

We often have right-wingers in here attempting to push their own agendas with seemingly mundane comments and questions. Right-wingers sincerely looking to educate themselves are permitted, as long as they remain respectful of the space and engage in good faith. Obvious attempts by the right to troll or interfere in this community will result in permanent bans with no chance of repeal. This rule covers all attempts to push monarchist/royalist, pro-police, pro-landlord and pro-capitalist rhetoric.

6. Inciting violence, harassment and other breaches of Reddit's rules

- Please don't spread misinformation (without critique or irony)
- Please don't ping users from linked threads or Reddit screenshots.
- Please don't advocate for violence.
- Please don't participate in linked reddit posts/harass crossposted subreddits
- Please don't link to piracy websites - Just direct people to r/piracy
- Please censor usernames when posting reddit screenshots

7. No brigading

Please don't use our leftist community to feud with other users or subreddits, even right-wing ones. Brigading to other subreddits is not allowed and is against the Reddit TOS. If you see something on another subreddit that you'd like to highlight here, please screenshot it and remove the details of the user before you repost here.

8. Paywalls

Only post pay-walled links if no other are available. If possible include a screenshot of the article. Non-paywalled links will always be prioritised.

9. Article titles

Submission titles for articles must clearly and accurately describe the content. Supplementary information can be added to newspaper article titles as long as it is not misleading. Do not use ALL CAPS in submission titles. Exceptions can be made for satire/humorous image submissions.

If you see anyone violating these rules, please use the report button.
